Many thanks to everyone who entered this 21st annual contest, and to those who helped to publicize what is an internationally established annual haiku ‘event’.

This year 1,099 entries were received from 131 entrants residing in 14 countries across 4 continents: USA (70 entrants), England (29), Canada (9), Australia (8), Scotland (3), Ireland (2), New Zealand (2), Wales (2), Iceland (1), Israel (1), Japan (1), Netherlands (1), Spain (1), and Sweden (1).

As ever, in the initial stage of adjudication each poem entered faced one simple criterion: its quality as a haiku. The shortlisted haiku were then judged according to their originality and relevance to their assigned months, particularly with regards to seasonal references.

With 52 haiku by 42 authors, the resulting 2020 calendar continues a rich tradition exploring and celebrating the continuing relevance of seasonal references in English-language haiku. The existence of the calendar, which is only made possible by participation in this contest, also allows us to appreciate individual haiku such as these:

spring again seaside cottage at the bottom of one pot a key in the curve shards of another of the conch

Robert Gilliland (USA) Linda Jeannette Ward (USA)

harebells early twilight
how her hand snow enters a barn
once held mine on the backs of cows

Simon Chard (Scotland) Christopher Herold (USA)

Many thanks again to all entrants for making both this contest and the calendar a worthwhile, and ongoing, experience. I would like to congratulate all the winning poets, and I hope that their haiku will be widely appreciated throughout the coming year.
